

U.S. fixed-income strategy seeking to build strong, sustainable communities by directing capital to where it is needed most

At Domini, we believe fixed-income investments are well-suited to helping address a wide range of economic disparities in our society. The Domini Impact Bond FundSM, which was one of the first fixed-income funds to use environmental and social standards, seeks to help build healthy communities while providing shareholders a high level of current income and total return.

The Fund is managed through a unique, coordinated process: Domini sets environmental and social guidelines and objectives and conducts in-depth research and analysis to determine which securities meet our Impact Investment Standards, and Wellington constructs and manages an investment-grade portfolio of Domini-approved securities using proprietary analytical tools.

Community Investing Goals

In our bond evaluations, we focus on three key goals to build a more sustainable and equitable society: increasing access to capital for those historically underserved by the mainstream financial community, creating public goods for those most in need, and filling capital gaps left by current financial practice.

1. Returns for periods of less than one year are not annualized.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. An investment in the Funds is not a bank deposit, is not insured, and is subject to certain risks, including loss of principal, impact investing, portfolio management, style, information, market, interest rate, and credit risks. The Fund's returns quoted above represent past performance after all expenses. The returns reflect any applicable expense waivers in effect during the periods shown. Without such waivers, returns would be lower. Investment return, principal value, and yield will fluctuate. Your shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. You may lose money. Total return for the Fund is based on the Fund's net asset values and assumes all dividends and capital gains were reinvested. The total returns do not reflect the deduction of fees and taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or the redemption of Fund shares. Investing internationally involves special risks, such as currency fluctuations, social and economic instability, differing security regulations and accounting standards, limited public information, possible changes in taxation, and periods of illiquidity. These risks may be heightened in connection with investments in emerging market countries. The Adviser's evaluation of environmental and social factors in its investment selections will affect the Fund's exposure to certain issuers, industries, sectors, regions, and countries and may impact the relative financial performance of the Fund depending on whether such investments are in or out of favor. The value of your investment may decrease if the Adviser's or Subadviser's judgment about Fund investments does not produce the desired results. There is a risk that information used by the Adviser to evaluate environmental and social factors, may not be readily available or complete, which could negatively impact the Adviser's ability to evaluate such factors and Fund performance.

Before investing, consider the Domini Impact Bond Fund's investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses. Contact us for a prospectus containing this and other information. Read it carefully.

The composition of the Fund's portfolio is subject to change. Visit www.domini.com to view the most current list of the Fund's holdings or the most recent Annual Report containing a description of the Fund's portfolio.

During periods of rising interest rates, bond funds can lose value. Some of the Fund's community development investments may be unrated and may carry greater credit risks than the Fund's other holdings. The Fund currently holds a large percentage of its portfolio in mortgage-backed securities. During periods of falling interest rates, mortgage-backed securities may prepay the principal due, which may lower the Fund's return by causing it to reinvest at lower interest rates.

The Fund may hold a substantial portion of its assets in the direct obligations of US government agencies and government-sponsored entities such as Fannie Mae (formally known as the Federal National Mortgage Association), Freddie Mac (formally known as the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation), the Federal Farm Credit Banks Funding Corporation, or the Government National Mortgage Association ("Ginnie Mae"). Although the US government guarantees principal and interest payments on securities issued by the US government and some of its agencies, such as securities issued by the Ginnie Mae, this guarantee does not apply to losses resulting from declines in the market value of these securities. Some of the US government securities that the Domini Funds may hold are not guaranteed or backed by the full faith and credit of the US government, and no assurance can be given that the US government will provide financial support and sponsorship to Fannie Mae, Freddie Mac, or other government-sponsored enterprises in the future. The reduction or withdrawal of historical financial market support activities by the US Government and Federal Reserve, or other governments/central banks could negatively impact financial markets generally, and increase market, liquidity and interest rate risks which could adversely affect the Fund's returns.

Investments in derivatives can be volatile. Potential risks include currency risk, leverage risk (the risk that small market movements may result in large changes in the value of an investment), liquidity risk, index risk, pricing risk, and counterparty risk (the risk that the counterparty may be unwilling or unable to honor its obligations). TBA (To Be Announced) securities involve the risk that the security the Fund buys will lose value prior to its delivery. There also is the risk that the security will not be issued or that the other party to the transaction will not meet its obligation, which can adversely affect the Fund's results.
